

Ahh! Booking deadline! Help!

It's Friday afternoon and we're really sorry but we've had to go home to eat our dinner! So we're afraid there's no one in our office to troubleshoot if you're struggling to book online. But stay calm! We're going to do our best to honour all the bookings received before Monday at the discounted rate of £81 as long as they're paid in full before 1/02/11.

So if it's getting late, you're still having problems and you don't know what to do, here's some easy steps to follow to book before the £81 price expires:

STEP ONE: Write down everyone's details into an email. Here's a handy form that you can copy and paste into your email and fill in the details:

STEP TWO: Email that form to bookings@soulsurvivor.com. That's it! We'll call you to take a payment as soon as we can, and then we'll confirm your booking by email.
